BUCYRUS JURY TO GET FATE OF MAN TODAY

No Witnesses Placed on Stand by Counsel for Kenneth McCartney.

14 CALLED BY STATE

Prosecutor Asks Second Death Penalty To Avenge Death of Wilcox.

BULLETIN

BUCYRUS, Sept. 18—A jury in common pleas court today at 2:13 p. m. began deliberating the fate of Kenneth McCartney, indicted for first degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Ralph Wilcox of Galion.

• • •

Special To The Star.

BUCYRUS, Sept. 18—Whether Kenneth McCartney will face the same fate as given Fred Massa, convicted of the fatal shooting of Ralph Wilcox in an attempted Galion filling station holdup and sentenced to death in the electric chair, is expected to be placed in the hands of a jury in the court of common pleas here late this afternoon.

Resting its case without introducing a single witness, the defense will rely upon Attorney George Coble's plea for mercy when he makes his argument before the jury this afternoon following the noon recess.

Death penalty for McCartney was asked by Porsecutor J. D. Sears in his argument to the jury this morning. He pictured McCartney as being equally responsible for the fatal shooting as Massa

Calls Him Aid

He said that McCartney drove two other men to the scene of the fatal shooting and stayed in the car after reaching the Galion gasoline station. He pointed out that a person aiding in the performance of a crime is equally as guilty as the man carrying out the actual act.

The case will go to the jury immediately after the completion of arguments and the charge of Judge J. W. Wright

The state rested its case today at 10 a. m. after calling only 14 of 22 witnesses subpoenaed.

Mrs. Wilcox, wife of the slain man, and Mrs. Alma Gledhill, eye witness of the shooting, were the principal witnesses placed on the stand yesterday afternoon. They told details of the shooting but were unable to identify McCartney.

Dr. P. A. Murr, Galion physician who attended Wilcox, was the last witness to take the stand for the state today.

After the state had rested its case, Attorney Coble made a motion for a directed verdict for McCartney on a technical point. It was overruled by Judge Wright.

The trial followed the same trend taken during that of Massa.

McCartney's mother attended all sessions of the court.

One more person, Earl Sites, remains to be tried on a first degree murder indictment growing out of the shooting. His hearing will open Monday morning.

FORMER COUNCILMAN ENTERS GUILTY PLEA

One-Time Canton Official Charged with Protecting Bootleggers

CLEVELAND, Sept. 18—Shortly after a jury of 10 men and two women had been seated in the jury box for his trial in federal district court here today on charges of conspiracy to violate the national prohibition laws, Arthur Drukenbrod, former Canton councilman, changed his plea of not guilty to guilty.

The change of plea was made by Drukenbrod through his brother and attorney, Fabor Drukenbrod. Judge Samuel West accepted the plea and immediately recessed the court.

F. J. Keenan, attorney for E. R. Curtis, former safety director of Canton who is accused jointly with Drukenbrod of conspiracy to violate the liquor laws, denied the charge, in behalf of his client, as placed before the jury by United States District Attorney Wilfred J. Mahon.

Mahon told the jury that between March 1, 1928 and March 1, 1930, Curtis and Drukenbrod entered into a conspiracy with Earl Strupe, alleged owner of three liquor establishments in Canton, to violate the national prohibition laws. He charged that the two former Canton city officials gave Strupe "protection," for which they received large sums in graft.

CHICAGO PLANS FINISH FIGHT

Hunt for 26 "Public Enemies" Is Seen as Only Part of War on Gangs.

UNION OFFICES RAIDED

Home of Al Capone Also Visited by Officers and Al's Brother Nabbed.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Sept. 18—The police hunt for 26 "public enemies" was revealed today as just a segment of a concerted finish battle against rackets and hoodlums.

Raids on 10 labor union offices directed by State's Attorney Swanson spread the warfare into another sector yesterday and resulted in police seizure of records which are expected to shed light on the efforts of underworld gangs to "muscle" into control of reputable labor groups

Union offices were entered by seven squads of detectives under authority of warrants from Chief Justice John J. McGoorty of the criminal court, who inaugurated the major offensive against the gangs in a special charge to the September grand jury.

Drive Well Organized

The police squads struck simultaneously so there would be no chance for removing or hiding the records. Assistant state's attorneys in charge of racketeer prosecutions said that most of the unions involved were under the domination of George (Red) Barker, William (Three-Finger Jack) White and similar characters Both Barker and White were listed by the Chicago crime commission as "public enemies" and were on the list of the 26 sought on vagrancy warrants.

Young Brother of Scarface Al Taken Into Custody.

By International News Service

CHICAGO, Sept. 18—Police today raided the home of "Scarface Al" Capone, king of Chicago gangsters, and arrested his 21-year-old brother, Matthew. They surrounded the automobile with drawn weapons and yanked the driver out of the seat. He proved to be young Matthew, who recently enrolled as a law students at Villanova college.

Young Capone was marched up to the front door of the house and his mother, Mrs. Theresa Capone, responded to his knock. The officers pushed their prisoner inside, following on his heels A rapid search convinced the police that neither Al nor Ralph were present.

Bellings Must Go-Along With Barking Autos

NO longer will matrimonial services in Marion be followed by an inevitable "bell ing." Bellings are on the taboo list, along with noisy automobile cutouts and other voluminous noises that lately have been in the habit of disturbing the slumbers of Marionites around midnight hours

Nor would it be wise for belling parties from other cities or villages to pass through Marion, if the participants carry any fear of a blue coated officer in their hearts From now on, a demonstration of this nature will constitute an urgent invitation to police headquarters.

Mayor I. Don Jones late yesterday urged Acting Police Chief Ira Shrock to conduct a crusade against belings Earlier in the day, he issued a similar order directed at drivers of automobiles which were not properly equipped with mufflers.

BIXLER TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Man Held Here on Indictments To Undergo Sanity Observation at Columbus.

Charles Lewis, alias Bixler, indicted for attempted burglary and possession of burglar's tools, today was to be taken to Columbus State Hospital for a 30-day period of mental observation on recommendation of Prosecuting Attorney Alfred Donithen.

If judged sane, Lewis will be returned here to face trial in common pleas court on the two indictments He was to have been tried Friday but Donithen's action in sending him to Columbus resulted in postponement of the trial.

Attorney Fred W Warner suggested to the court that such an examination be made of Lewis whom he thinks is suffering from shell shock sustained during the World war

Lewis was arrested here the night following the murder of Raymond Steele, filling station operator, and was quizzed in connection with the slaying He proved his innocence, however, but did so only by proving that he committed a grocery store burglary in Cleveland at the time of the murder

Before the quizzing, Lewis learned of the planned examination and to avoid the ordeal, escaped from the county jail by sawing bars of his cell with improvised saws made from razor blades Later he was recaptured at a Fostoria hobo camp

R. S. Turnbull of Cleveland, arrested with Lewis when they attempted to break into a Kroger store on South Prospect street, pleaded guilty to similar indictments and was sentenced to a year in the penitentiary.

Long Winded

(Will Rogers Special)

BEVERLY HILS, Cal., Sept. 18—At Las Vegas, Nev., yesterday, Secretary Wilbur dedicated the Boulder Dam. I had been asked to go there in case Arizona senators should start a filibuster, and keep talking and talking and prevent the dedication.

They wired, "Will, you are the only man in America that can talk longer about nothing than a senator; then, too, we think the Democratic party should be represented and Borah can't come."

If Vanderbilt wants to make himself America's latest hero, he will break a rudder, or hit an iceberg, with that boat of his and let that old man win.

Then we will start a Vanderbilt for president club.

LIPTON YACHT IS OUTCLASSED BY DEFENDER

Famous Sportsman's Hopes for Cup Vanish with Today's Defeat.

CHALLENGER FAR IN REAR

U. S. Craft Nearly Six Minutes Ahead at Finish of Deciding Contest.

By International News Service

ABOARD U. S. S. KANE, OFF NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 18 -Enterprise, Harold Vanderbilt's trim racing yacht, defeated Shamrock V, Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger, in the fourth and final of the America's cup races here today.

The Enterprise crossed the finish line at exactly 1 50 05 p. m amid a terrific din set up by hundreds of accompanying craft, who lined the race course

Far behind the winning yacht, ambled Shamrock V, carrying with it the now forlorn hopes of yachting supremacy of its famous owner

The Shamrock crossed the finish line at 1 55 55 p m., nearly six minutes behind the victorious Enterprise.

Today's victory was the fourth consecutive win of the cup series for the American defender, which outclassed the Shamrock from start to finish.

Lipton, who for many years has entertained fond hopes of carrying the cup back to his native British Isles, saw the dashing of his ambitions from the deck of his steam yacht, Erin

His Fifth Defeat

The venerable Irish baronet must have stifled a sob as he saw his green hulled challenger trail the American boat in Five times has he challenged for the cup and five times has he failed. He is an old man now and it is highly improbable that his failing health will allow him to make another conquest of the battle scarred old trophy he covets so much.

Vanderbilt Maneuvers

Just before reaching the 10 mile mark Enterprise ran in toward the shore, Vanderbilt apparently expecting to find a strong eddy of wind off the land and to get the benefit of the tide that sometimes runs along the shore at a velocity of three miles an hour.

The breeze continued to freshen to between 15 and 18 miles an hour as Enterprise went charging down the second leg, with a bone in her teeth.

Shamrock rounded the 10-mile buoy at 12 12 14 p. m —nine minutes behind Enterprise.

Betting odds were 3 to 1 that skipper Harold S. Vanderbilt would again maneuver his sloop to victory.

Shamrock in the first 20 minutes opened up a scant lead of perhaps 200 yards on Enterprise. Captain Ernest Heard of the challenger drove his sloop through a choppy sea and into a 14-knot breeze to overcome any disadvantage his yacht had encountered at the start.

OIL COMPANIES CUT PRICES ON GASOLINE

Reduction, However, Only Brings Cost Down to Marion Levels.

A statewide drop in gasoline prices, announced today by the major oil companies, will not affect Marion city but will affect stations outside Marion township in the territory reached by local bulk stations, according to a survey made of local stations.

Marion's prices, which for three years have been below the state level, are the same as those announced for the state in general, it was said.

The new price level for the state is 19 cents a gallon for the regular gasoline, with a differential of from two to four cents extra for the higher grades. The new prices are two cents a gallon lower than the former prices, except in cities like Marion where prices have been below normal.

Overproduction is given by the companies as the reason for the general drop.

Companies which have dropped their prices include Standard Oil, Shell, Pure Oil, Sunoco, Sinclair, National Refining and Refiners.

Bryan Fundamentalist School, Result of Scopes Trial, Opens in Tennessee

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, Tenn., Sept. 18—A fundamentalist university that grew out of the famous anti-evolution trial here five years ago opened today, a memorial to William Jennings Bryan.

While here fighting to uphold the Tennessee statute forbidding the teaching of the theory of evolution in public schools, Bryan suggested the establishment of a school in Dayton. He died July 26, 1925, two days after the trial ended, but his idea took root and grew into the William Jennings Bryan university, a co-educational school. It will have intercollegiate athletic teams.

Only freshmen classes started today, the plan being to add courses gradually until the university is a four-year institution.

Nearly $1,000,000 has been subscribed to the fundamentalist school, which has acquired an 81-acre site.

William Jennings Bryan university, it is set forth in its charter of incorporation, is for the purpose of "conducting and perpetuating a university for the higher education of men and women under auspices distinctly Christian and spiritual, as a testimony of the Lord Jesus Christ and the divine inspiration and infallibility of Bible."

The president, Dr. George E. Guille, is a staunch fundamentalist.

Clarence Darrow, Dudley Field Malone and Arthur Garfield Hays, noted attorneys, came to Scopes defense in his trial, but he was found guilty and the judge assessed the minimum fine of $100.

Constitutionality of the anti-evolution act was upheld by the state supreme court. The judge who assessed the $100 fine exceeded his jurisdiction and reversed the judgment. Under Tennessee law a judge cannot impose a fine in excess of $50. The anti-evolution statute provided a minimum penalty of $100.

Gov. Cooper Pays Tribute To Late Col. Christian

A letter from Governor Myers Y. Cooper to George B. Christian Jr., was one of the outstanding tributes paid Col. George B. Christian at the funeral services yesterday afternoon. George E. McCormick, state librarian, delivered the letter and attended the funeral as the personal representative of the governor.

Friends whom Colonel Christian had made throughout the state were present for the services, and those who could not be present, sent beautiful floral pieces.

A large number of Civil War veterans attended the funeral. Cooper Post No. 117, G. A. R., of which Colonel Christian was a charter member, turned out in large numbers as well as veterans of other posts. The post flag service, in charge of Commander Charles Wiley, was presented. Rev. Howard L. Olewiler, pastor of First Presbyterian church, conducted the church services.

At the grave a salute was fired and taps were sounded.

The letter to George B. Christian Jr., former secretary to President Harding, and now in the federal service in Washington, D. C., was as follows:

"My dear Friend:

"Before memory's sacred picture, I bow this day in reverence at the bier of your lamented father, Colonel George B. Christian, whose friendship I valued highly, and it is my earnest prayer that you and your loved ones who are left behind to mourn his passing will accept in the true spirit in which it is sent, my humble tribute to his fine, rugged character.

"I would have attended his funeral today, but matters of state forbade. I know that mere words are futile, and any expression of warm friendship and deep sympathy will seem poor indeed when compared to the words and deeds of this splendid old soldier, who carried on valiantly all through his long life, like the true hero that he was.

"There are times when it seems impossible to voice in any adequate way the things which perhaps should be said; but, as your noble father is borne to his last resting place, there comes to me the vivid recollection of his striking figure at Cincinnati, where I had the good fortune of addressing the National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic in August last and at the same time renewing old acquaintance with him.

"And a few days later, when the Grand Army veterans made the pilgrimage to the birthplace of General U. S. Grant at Point Pleasant, I again had the pleasure of meeting this stalwart defender of the Union cause. Then it seems but yesterday, I saw him for the last time at Marion on September 1. Colonel Christian came to the Hotel Harding and greeted me warmly. He possessed a charm that is rare in men. It was magnetic. I invited him to hear me speak at the Labor day celebration and he graciously accepted my invitation, accompanying me to the scene of the celebration and occupying a place near me. I was most happy to pay public tribute to his solid worth upon that occasion. Colonel Christian returned with me to the Hotel Harding and remained there until I prepared to leave for Columbus, his presence lending inspiration and encouragement to me throughout the day.

"Today I am deeply grieved to know and to realize that since that memorable last meeting he has answered "Taps" and joined his comrades, who, together with himself, not only saved but preserved the union of states.

"Colonel Christian was a true christian gentleman. I shall cherish his memory and keep fresh in my mind as long as I live his endearing personality.

"Mrs. Cooper joins me in extending to you and every member of your family heartfelt condolences.

"Yours most sincerely,

"MYERS Y. COOPER."

Chairman of the Board Carnegie Institute of Technology, Director American National Theatre.

"Perhaps the most vital influence in the American business world in recent years has been the tendency of industrial leaders to join hands with science. No more significant example of this trend exists than your modern use of the Ultra Violet Ray in the 'Toasting' of the LUCKY STRIKE tobaccos. The great success of your experiments demonstrates the wisdom of this union between business and cience."

Samuel Harden Church

LUCKY STRIKE—the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—THEN—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so TOASTING removes harmful irritants that cause throat irritation and coughing. No wonder 20,679 physicians have stated LUCKIES to be less irritating! Everyone knows that sunshine mellows—that's why TOASTING includes the use of the Ultra Violet Ray.

CITY WILL ANSWER MAIN STREET SUIT

Solicitor Patton Will Act in Supreme Court Case Within 30 Days.

Attorneys for the city board of control will argue the motion filed with the state supreme court by L. L. Aller, local contractor, in which he seeks a review of the Main street case in which he was defeated in the appellate court, City Solicitor Carter Patton said today.

An answering motion to that filed with the state court by Aller will be drawn up within the 30-day period allowed by law and a hearing to decide whether the court will review the case will be held.

Aller appealed on error to the state's highest court in his attempt to obtain an injunction restraining the city board of control from granting a contract for work on Main street to P. Drake & Sons, whose bid was $7,300 higher than one submitted by Aller.

Counsel for city officials will contest the motion for review on the grounds that the contract was let to the Drake firm in a proper manner considered most beneficial to the citizens of Marion, and that Aller has no adequate grounds for a suit.

City Solicitor Carter Patton and W. P. Moloney have been representing the city in the case. The law firm of Ochs & Roller represent Aller.

SUPREME COURT GETS SALARY CASE

Prosecuting Attorney Donithen Files Appeal with State Tribunal.

Reversal of a decision of common pleas court in the mandamus action brought by Joseph M. Justice, court bailiff, against county commissioners is asked by Prosecuting Attorney Alfred Donithen in an appeal filed today with the state supreme court at Columbus.

The local court, with Judge J. Walter Wright of Crawford county presiding, ruled several months ago that commissioners must appropriate $600 additional salary for Justice for this year. The decision, by agreement of attorneys for both sides, was to cover also a suit for $600 back salary for 1929.

Justice's suit first was filed against Auditor Earl F. Thomas when the latter last year refused to issue vouchers beyond the $1,800 salary limit appropriated by commissioners, although Judge George B. Scofield, in setting the bailiff's salary, had placed the mark at $2,400 for the year.

When the district court of appeals ruled that Thomas was right in his refusal to issue vouchers beyond the appropriation limit, Justice's attorneys then started successful action against commissioners.

LETTER SAYS MISSING JUSTICE THREATENED

Crater Faced Probable Breach of Promise Suit, Lawyer Says.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 18—The New York World says it has been informed by Dr. Samuel Buchler, a lawyer, that the day before Supreme Court Justice Joseph E. Crater disappeared a woman asked him to start suit against the justice for $100,000 for breach of promise.

The woman who called herself Lorraine Fay, said she had letters from the justice, but failed to return the next day as she had promised.

The information from Buchler came after his attention had been called by the newspapers to a letter it had received from a woman in which he was mentioned in connection with the suit. The writer said she, Mrs. Crater and others, knew the justice's whereabouts.

The day before Justice Crater disappeared he withdrew $5,500 from the bank. The writer says he had to take this money out of the bank to "satisfy the whims of a 'scanty' who threatened scandals." She says she understands the threatened suit was disposed of by the payment of $5,000.

The letter was postmarked from Chicago.

The Stars Say—
For Friday, Sept. 19

WHILE there is presage of some important developments or changes on this day, with a measure of success and progress, yet there is also sign of conditions to be rigorously manipulated toward this ultimate achievement. There may be many small annoyances, with misunderstandings and bickerings, and also the personal situation is not one to insure either harmony or gratification. With wise management there is promise of an excellent opening for a radical and happy change of affairs.

Those whose birthday it is stand at the threshold of a year offering much opportunity and advantageous change, with gain and promotion, but this implies overcoming many petty annoyances, delays and disappointments and adjures care with speech and writings. Also employment may harry, and purely personal engagements be beset with unhappiness and frustration. A child born on this day may be sure of many splendid qualifications for high adventure and success in life, but it may have many tests of these abilities through business anxieties and disappointments as well as personal grievances or sorrows.

17 Distinguished Women Sit in Unique Council

Mrs. James J. Davis, Mary Roberts Rinehart, Anne Morgan, amo members of committee to view spectacular tests of new soap discov

THE story of a remarkable new achievement of science—startling in its significance to millions of American women—was revealed recently in news reports of what is claimed to be the most unusual meeting of its kind ever held. Seventeen distinguished women — called together by a prominent manufacturer—to witness a pre-showing of a commercial product.

Tests Tell Dramatic Story

First chemists pointed out how modern hasty washbowl laundering of silks demands an utterly different kind of soap than chips or flakes. How they set out to make a soap that would dissolve instantly . . . rinse away 100% and cleanse in water cool enough to be safe for silks. How they finally solved this problem by making a soap of olive and palm oils . . . in the form of tiny, hollow, instant-dissolving "beads." Then the tests of the new soap began.

Thirty Times Faster Than Old Ways

Mammoth test tubes revealed how the new soap dissolves 30 times faster than the thinnest chip or flake! Rinses away completely, instantly!

Used in water barely lukewarm, it cleanses at new low temperatures never usable before — safe for the most fragile silks, the finest woolens.

So revolutionary was the new soap, so perfectly did it fulfill requirements no soap has ever been able to meet before, that the Committee of Seventeen unanimously approved it as "soap ideal for washing silks."

Called Palmolive Beads

Because this new soap is as gentle and effective for delicate fabrics as Palmolive is for the skin, it has been given the treasured name "Palmolive Beads."

Wash delicate colors, fine woolens, lovely chiffon hosiery in the gentle, protective suds of Palmolive Beads again and again. Then note how much longer lovely fabrics wear! Palmolive Beads are for sale everywhere.

ACTION HELD UP BY COUNCIL

Ask More Time To Consider Proposal for New Gas Franchise.

Special To The Star

KENT, Sept. 18 — Desiring more time in which to further consider the gas situation locally, including rates and a request for a natural gas franchise, city council has failed to take any definite action in the matter.

Representatives of both the West Ohio Gas Co. of Lima, present distributors of gas here, and Akron interests seeking a 10-year franchise to furnish the city gas from the western Hardin county fields, were heard by councilmen last evening.

While the West Ohio failed to present any definite proposition to council, E. R. Curtain, president of the company intimated that he would have definite proposals for consideration by the time council met again in three weeks.

After a series of conferences with the council gas committee during which the Akron men offered the city a gas rate in event a franchise was granted, representatives last night sought definite council action in the matter. They were informed that definite action at the time was impossible since there were several questions which they desired to go into.

In brief talks the Akron men explained their desire to procure a franchise that they might supply gas locally from fields in the county. They declared there was adequate gas and that their interests were in expansion to safeguard the city's interests should their lines be run into the city. Their rates offered they claimed, are considerably lower than the schedule now in effect.

GILEAD, Sept. 18—Maxwell Jenkins, 17, and Clarence Belcher, 25, are held in the county jail after their arrest Wednesday by Deputy Sherrif Clyde Bending on charges of being implicated with other men and boys now held in the jail in the theft of wheat and other farm products from farmers near Sparta.

Marvin Sperry, John Snyder, Kenneth Bowen and Mitchell Askins arrested Saturday are held on the same charges.

The men were arrested with Edward Haines who was fined $200 and costs Wednesday after he had pleaded guilty to porsession of liquor Haines is still in the county jail as the fine has not been paid, but he is not charged with any connection with the wheat thefts.

Further investigation will be made before the youths are arraigned as others may be implicated, authorities state.

Restless CHILDREN

CHILDREN will fret, often for no apparent reason. But there's always Castoria! Harmless as the recipe on the wrapper; mild and bland as it tastes. But its gentle action soothes a youngster more surely than a more powerful medicine.

That's the beauty of this special children's remedy! It may be given the tiniest infant—as often as there is need. In cases of colic, diarrhea or similar disturbance, it is invaluable. A coated tongue calls for just a few drops to ward off constipation; so does any suggestion of bad breath. Whenever children don't eat well, don't rest well, or have any little upset—this pure vegetable preparation is usually all that's needed.

Safety on the Highways.

A long line of automobiles of all makes and in all stages of wear extended away from Philadelphia's free inspection station a few days ago. In each was a driver awaiting his turn to demonstrate that his car could pass the required state inspection. Registration, examination of headlights, horns, windshield wipers, rear-vision mirrors and tests for brake thrust were the steps in the procedure

Down the line came a rumor. As it was passed from mouth to mouth, there were many chuckles. Some misgivings. The mayor's car had failed to pass the test. Big, shiny, new and driven by a professional driver, it had to be sent to a garage to have the lights and brakes adjusted. It was likewise with the car of the president of council. Many indeed were the palpitating hearts after that as cars drew closer to the examination enclosure, and with good reason, too. A scant thirty per cent. of the 475 cars examined during the day were given a clean bill of health.

Some of Philadelphia's automobiles were adorned with yellow tickets after the tests. That meant they were dangerously obsolete and should be refused registration. In 1929, more than 3,000 cars were removed from the road by this method. This year, it is anticipated, more owners will junk their cars voluntarily.

It's an interesting thought—the possibility that some day all cars and all drivers may have to prove their ability to operate safely on the highways. More important than the car, of course, is the driver, since it is upon him that the responsibility for maintaining the car rests. If he is interested in preserving his right to operate a vehicle, there is every likelihood that the vehicle will be maintained in good condition.

Still Naval Competition.

The statement that the United States possessed superiority in destroyers has repeatedly appeared in print. It was set out time and again before and during the London naval limitation conference and has been since. As a matter of fact, we have superiority in tonnage, but it ends right there. We are lacking when power, speed and general effectiveness are considered.

To be fair, it must be admitted that we were told during the time of the London conference that the new destroyer leaders of some of the other naval powers were superior to any destroyers possessed by us, but at that time the most of us were ignorant of how great that superiority was. It is disclosed now since American naval experts are concentrating their energies on designs for destroyer leaders which will compare favorably in size, power, speed and armament to those of Great Britain, France and Italy.

Britain, it develops, has in the Codrington, a newly-commissioned destroyer leader of 1,520 tons, a vessel capable of a speed of from thirty-eight to forty knots, and in the Keith, of 1,390 tons, a vessel which will compare in speed very favorably with the Codrington.

The French destroyer leader, Verdun, of 2,436 tons, on four trial runs over a measured mile attained a speed of 40.188 knots, which means a speed of over forty-five miles of 5,280 feet an hour. The Italian and Japanese destroyer leaders are capable of something over forty miles an hour. Thus four of the leading five navies, of which our own is one, have destroyer leaders capable of a speed of over forty miles, while we haven't any destroyer leaders at all and our fastest destroyers, now obsolete, can not show a speed of more than forty miles.

The result is that our naval experts are designing destroyer leaders of approximately 1,850 tons displacement and destroyers of about 1,500 tons, both of which classes will carry five-inch guns, and be capable of speeds equal to vessels of their class in any other navy.

Much has appeared in type and much has been uttered by word of mouth about the abandonment of competition in warship building as the result of the limitations set by the Washington and London conferences. And there is no question but what the limitations established have brought about the abandonment of competition in tonnage in the various classes of warships as well as limitation of the size of battleships and the sizes and armaments of cruisers, but that competition in the speed and effectiveness of any class of vessel has been limited, or that there is the abandonment of competition in the size, speed or armament of vessels of lesser class than battleships and the two classes of cruisers limited by the London treaty, is obviously not true.

There still is competition in naval building, and always will be till the millennium arrives.

Mayor Jones Bans Bellings.

Mayor Jones deserves commendation for placing a ban on bellings. There was a time when newly married couples were belled at their homes, but in recent years bellings have locally taken the form of street parades in which the newly weds are hauled about the city in the night season in an old cart, or some such vehicle, to the accompaniment of the sounding of automobile horns and other noise-producing instruments, and the practice has grown to such an extent as to constitute a common nuisance.

It is true that in some lands noise and revelry are recognized as essential features of a wedding ceremony, but such lands are those on which civilization has made little, if any, impress, and even in such lands brides and grooms are not forced to participate in any way which is humiliating.

Marriage should be recognized as a solemn and sacred undertaking. Such performances as those on which the mayor has placed a ban tend to make of it something in the order of a joke. The practice banned is an outrage on the newly-married couples made its victims. That they usually are the victims of possibly well-meaning friends in no way excuses the practice. Even granting that some brides and grooms may excuse it, that does not excuse the disturbance which no community should be made to suffer.

This newspaper congratulates Mayor Jones over the taking of the course he has, and very sincerely hopes that he will see to it that the ban he has pronounced is faithfully enforced by the police department.

There is no occasion for surprise that the senate committee investigating campaign expenses wouldn't permit testimony regarding the activities of its detectives. It is not interested in that angle of campaign expenses.

A Baltimore bootlegger has complained to the assistant United States district attorney in that city that no less than eight counterfeit twenty-dollar bills had been worked off on him during the last two weeks by his patrons. Is Uncle Sam going to permit such an imposition as that to be practiced on the gentlemanly booze purveyors?

It has been charged that President Hoover did not express resentment when the French writer, Pertinax, at the annual banquet of the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington last April, made an attack on the policies of the United States. Aside from the fact that the President called the Frenchman down and later told the American newspaper men that he hoped that they would have better taste than to attack the policies of a foreign country in the presence of the chief executive of the nation they were visiting, the charge is substantially correct.

Editorial Opinion.

GERMANY VOTES.

The outstanding feature of the German elections was the gain made by the extremist parties in the reichstag, where the Communists increased their seats from fifty-four to seventy-six and the German Fascists jumped their membership from twelve to 107. Communists and Fascists alike are enemies of the republic. Otherwise they have nothing in common. The Fascists want a dictator. The Communists belong to the Third International. A long period of depression and distress, aggravated by the inability of the moderate parties to unite on a comprehensive domestic program, worked in favor of the extremist candidates at the polls.

The steps by which Germany moved inexorably to Sunday's elections were short and distinct. After the general election of May, 1928, Chancellor Mueller formed his grand coalition, a ministry of personalities gathered together to put over the Stresemann foreign policies. As soon as it had ratified the Young plan and brought about the evacuation of the Rhineland, Chancellor Mueller's cabinet fell. The Social Democrats split with the bourgeois parties over unemployment insurance. This was last March. Chancellor Bruening then effected a conservative-bourgeois coalition based on the Center, with the Social Democrats lending it a friendly neutrality. When the latter withdrew their support from his financial program in July, Chancellor Bruening invoked Article 48 of the constitution, which empowers the president of the reich to act in an emergency without a reichstag. Since then Germany has been under a constitutional dictatorship.

Chancellor Bruening's ministry presumably will disappear, as a consequence of Sunday's voting. The moderate parties will then have to choose between another coalition strong enough to withstand attacks from the Communists on the left and the Fascists on the right; and a dictatorship. The political prophets offer no other alternative. The Communists and Fascists have a combined representation in the reichstag of 183 seats. They might get some support from the German Nationalists, who have forty-one members. The bourgeois parties have 206 seats and to some extent can count on at least the neutrality of the Social Democrats, who have 143 seats. Obviously the moderates could outvote the extremists if they would stand together. The difficulty is that there are eleven conservative-bourgeois groups in the reichstag, which can't easily agree among themselves or with the Social Democrats. Clearly Germany has too many parties.

The inability of the moderates to discern in the rise of the extremists a warning sufficiently impressive to induce them to gather under a single umbrella would expose republican government in Germany to the worst storm it has experienced in its short life of scarcely more than a decade.—Detroit Free Press.

Circulation and Healthy Skin.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Too often it happens in our homes that some member of the family, as the result of illness or accident, is in bed for a long period of time. If the invalid is an old person, or if the illness is such that the patient is kept in one position, bed-sores are liable to develop.

The health of the skin depends on the free circulation of the blood. If it is to be firm and healthy, the skin must be plentifully supplied with blood at all times. Bed-sores are due to the death of the skin because of interference with the blood supply.

The usual place for a bed-sore is the lower part of the back. It may involve any part which is pressed upon until it becomes tender and sore. The full length of the spine, the shoulder blades, hips, heels, elbows—all these parts must be carefully watched.

The first bad sign is a redness of the parts. This may be followed by swelling. Next we notice that the skin becomes soft and it may come away in a mass. Underneath the damaged surface is found an open ulcer.

The ulcerated area spreads and deepens. It may extend right down to the bone

All this is bad enough, but even more trouble may follow. The ulcerated spot sometimes becomes infected and filled with pus. If this happens, the system may be involved in general blood poisoning.

The important thing in caring for a bedridden patient is to change the position frequently. If he is heavy, you must provide a number of small pillows. These are placed under the body so that pressure may be taken off any congested spot.

All prominent or bony parts of the back and sides should be bathed night and morning with soapy water and thoroughly dried. Follow this by rubbing with alcohol, or any stimulating solution, to improve the circulation. After rubbing carefully, dust the parts well with starch, sterate of zinc, or talcum powder.

Cleanliness is of the greatest importance. Also it is necessary to keep the skin dry, because moisture softens the skin and helps to bring on trouble.

Prevention is the important thing. But if a sore actually forms, the doctor will treat it with the same care he would any other open wound.—Copyright, 1930, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

An Unusual Political Experience.

BY J. H. GALBRAITH.

John A. Foote, an outstandjng lawyer of Cleveland, fifty years ago had an experience in the way of political honor that falls to few. In 1833 he arranged to leave his old home in Cheshiretown, Connecticut, and locate in Cleveland, Ohio. Though Cheshiretown was overwhelmingly Democratic, and Foote and his companion in the movement, A. K. Cornwall, where Whigs, the Cheshiretown constituency proposed to give them in parting honor of representing the town in the legislature about to be chosen, and this was done.

Foote and Cornwall enjoyed the work of the short session down in New Haven and seem to have given satisfaction, for the people of Cheshiretown thereupon joined in giving the two a royal sendoff. This was in 1833. Both men lived to complete fifty years' residence in Cleveland and were then invited back to be honored with a reception in the house as it then stood. They were presented with a resolution of congratulation adopted by the house and signed by the speaker and the clerk. That took place in 1883.

Foote was the son of Governor H. S. Foote, whose resolution, when he was a member of the senate, was the basis of the celebrated debate between Senator Hayne, of South Carolina. He was also a brother of Admiral A. H. Foote of the United States navy, prominent in the service during the civil war.

The Word of God.

But we see Jesus, Who was made a little lower than the angels for the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honour; that He by the grace of God should taste death for every man.—Heb. 2.9.

Glenn Hammond Curtiss.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

One of the great pioneers of aviation, who brought great distinction to America for his achievements as flyer, designer and manufacturer of airplanes, is Curtiss, recently deceased. It is probably true that he was the leading figure in aircraft development during the period following the first flight of the Wright brothers and down to the opening of the World war. The progress of aviation was constantly promoted by him; and his name will always be remembered in the history of human flight.

Glenn Hammond Curtiss was born at Hammondsport, New York, on May 21, 1878, the son of Frank R. and Lena Andrews Curtiss. He attended the public schools, but never enjoyed the benefits of a college education. He worked for a time as a telegraph operator, and subsequently was employed by the Eastman Kodak company. He was a nautical inventor and mechanic, skilful in design, and clever in construction.

Speed with him was a sort of mania, whether on a bicycle, a motorcycle or in an airplane. As a young man, astride a yellow bicycle, he entered many contests and soon won a large collection of trophies. After acquiring a repair shop and building up a trade as bicycle repairer, he married Lena P. Neff of Hammondsport.

When the motorcycle came on the market, he began to manufacture motors for this new machine for covering the ground at high speeds. He was soon engaged in the business of manufacturing motorcycles. But he didn't stop; he began to make records as a speed demon. The record on a motorcycle he made at Ormond Beach, Florida, on January 28, 1904, stood for sixteen years. In 1906, on a motorcycle of his own design and manufacture, he established a speed of 137 miles an hour at Ormond Beach—a record which stood for about twenty years. It has been well said that speed was the keynote of his character.

In the field of flight in a dirigible, Curtiss made history. Thomas Scott Baldwin hung up a record with his dirigible, the California Arrow, with a motor built by Curtiss, at Oakland, California, on August 3, 1904. This feat of making a flight in a dirigible and returning to land at the starting point, was repeated by Baldwin at the St. Louis exposition, with Curtiss aboard as engineer. They subsequently gave exhibition flights in many parts of the country.

In 1907, Curtiss, in association with Alexander Graham Bell, organized the Aerial Experiment association. With Bell's assistance and Mrs. Bell's gift of $25,000, experiments were carried on over seven months, resulting in the construction of an airplane. Although it had been four years since the Wright brothers had made their initial flight, they had not yet flown in public, being delayed in securing their patents. The first public flight in America was made by Curtiss in his plane, the Red Wing. He flew for 318 feet eleven inches, but cracked up at the end of the flight. His next flight, in the White Wing, the second plane he ever built, was entirely successful. About this time he developed the ailerous for horizontal control. This involved him in prolonged litigation with the Wrights, who had used warped wings for the same purpose.

Curtiss has many records and achievements to his credit. Twice he won the Scientific American trophy. The first time he won it in the June Bug, July 4, 1908, the first previously announced flight in America. It is claimed, on good evidence, that his efforts to build a ship that could land and rise from the water led eventually to the development of the hydroplane. In 1909, he won the second Scientific American trophy; and a little later the Bishop prize for a flight of a kilometer in two and a half minutes. At Rheims, France, representing America, he won the James Gordon Bennett cup. On May 29, 1910, he achieved what was then regarded as a great triumph, the first flight from Albany to New York.

Curtiss established flying schools at many points in the United States and is credited with contributing more than any other man toward popularizing aviation. He was justly famous as designer and manufacturer of aircraft.—Copyright, 1930, International Features Service, Inc

CHARGE DENIED BY FARM BOARD

Brookhart Wrong in Alleging Link with Speculators, Officials Say.

By United Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18—Official[s] of the federal farm board today denied charges of Senator [Brookhart], Republican of Iowa, that they were cooperating with speculators in the grain market.

Returning from a tour of 13 states in which he spoke 300 times before the meetings adjourned, Brookhart charged the farm board and [its] subsidiaries with struggle for a debenture plan of export equalization fee plan of farm relief would be renewed in December.

"Nothing is reported." Brookhart said, "about the board's subsidiaries [buying] and selling their wheat [from] time to time like any gambler." He [criticized] the low price of wheat to the same old bunch of [speculators] very ably assisted by the farm board.

A board spokesman challenged [Brookhart's] statements and likewise ridiculed Brookhart's suggestion that President Hoover's war time prosperity [czar] or administrator be retained to fix farm prices at satisfactory levels.

The United Press was told at the farm board that the Hoover wheat [plan] in 1917-18 was on a basis of war time conditions and could not be duplicated today. It was emphasized that this country's wheat surplus has increased from [some] 90,000,000 bushels in 1926 to 275,000,000 bushels this year until now we produce more than half the world's export wheat.

The United States should know about all important activities, including those of "reds," and, if possible, some others, including national grafters, racketeers, bootleg organizations and wholesale criminals.

The "red" menace, which worries some of our "best minds," seems to be spreading.

In Australia, where government by labor unions has been somewhat overdone, and public finances are badly strained, there has been organized "a workers' defense army," called by others "an organization of reds."

This "army" tells landlords that they must not evict the unemployed, whether they pay rent or not. What they mean was illustrated when a landlord's home in the suburbs was wrecked.

Voting Eliminates Many Who Have Served Long Periods in Congress.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18—The year has been a hard one for veterans of congress.

S. Wallace Dempsey, chairman of the rivers and harbors committee and a member of the house from New York for 15 years, was beaten in Tuesday's primaries.

So was E. E. Browne, who has served the eighth Wisconsin district since 1913.

Furnifold M. Simmons of North Carolina, in the senate since 1901, and its dean in point of service, has been defeated for renomination. Joseph E. Ransdell, recently beaten for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Louisiana, has been a senator since 1913, and before that served in the house from 1899.

Representative Miller of Washington, who has served continuously since the 65th congress, was eliminated on Sept. 10.

Louis C. Cramton, dry leader, who was beaten by a wet in the voting in Michigan, has served without a break since the 63rd congress.

The dean of the Georgia house delegation, Thomas H. Bell, another primary victim, was serving his thirteenth term.

Bell, however, was the only one of the group in the house known as the "old timers" who has lost. Representative Henry Allen Cooper, of Kenosha, the dean of the house was renominated in Tuesday's primary. Cooper, 80 and serving his eighteenth term, is still alert and vigorous.

that she decided to become an aviatrix.

In 1928 she came to California, earning her way to San Diego by driving a car for some tourists. She began carrying out her ambition to fly by working and saving money for instruction. She worked in a beauty shop for a while and also as a waitress. She enrolled for an aviation course and quickly showed aptitude.

Establishes Records

On Nov. 17 last year, although she had less than 200 hours training and instruction, Miss Alexander passed the rigid tests prescribed by the Federation Aeronautique Internationale and qualified to try for an aviation record recognized by that organization.

The next day she went aloft in a light plane, soared to a height of approximately 15,000 feet and established a world's record for women fliers in planes of less than 100 horsepower.

Less than three weeks ago Miss Alexander added another feat to her achievements by making a nonstop flight from Vancouver, B. C., to Agua Caliente, Mexico, in 16 hours.

Before she took off from Lindbergh field, Miss Alexander jokingly told reporters that if she cracked up to "send me purple pansies—I like them best."

LEGGE PROMISES AID IN DEPRESSION ERA

Farm Board Head Believes Present Condition Only Temporary.

By International News Service

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 18—Because of overproduction in some lines of agriculture, the business depression and the drouth, American agriculture is facing a hard year, Alexander H. Legge, chairman of the federal farm board, told the Mortgage Bankers' association of America today.

He said there was equally no doubt that these difficulties would be surmounted and that in the perspective of years the strain will appear a temporary one. He told the bankers they could rely upon the board not only to do everything possible to facilitate this recovery, but it would devote all its powers and its best efforts toward raising the general level of agricultural prosperity as well.

Regarding the wheat situation Legge said:

"After a careful survey of the world supply and outlook for wheat, and the policy to which this points, we have been unable to escape the conclusion that we have been overproducing wheat, and cannot expect to continue doing this without loss. Our carry-over of wheat has increased in each year of the past five, and is a substantial part of an excessive world carry-over that has contributed heavily to depress wheat prices last year and this.

"This year, as it happens, the shortage of corn, hay and pasture affords an exceptional opportunity to work off most of this accumulated surplus."

Acosta had taken off from Roosevelt Field, N. Y., late yesterday afternoon in a borrowed plane. He landed late last night in a meadow on the farm of David Evans at Wilton. He told Evans engine trouble had made the landing necessary, but Evans telephoned the state police barracks in Westport and Acosta was arrested.

His license to fly in this state was suspended for low flying over Naugatuck in 1928.

BROWN STANDS BY PARTY DESIGNATION

Secretary of State Replies to Democratic Critics of Recent Ruling.

By United Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 18—Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown replied today to the plank in the Democratic state platform criticizing him for ruling that the Citizens' party in Hamilton county was not legally entitled to have a party designation and circle at the head of its ticket of candidates for county offices.

"The plank criticizing me was submitted to the Democratic resolutions committee by W. J. Leonard, Democratic leader in Hamilton county and member of the county election board, through one of his colleagues," Brown pointed out.

"In the committee the resolution was given to former Judge Maurice Bernon, Democratic members of the Cuyahoga county election board, to fit into the platform previously prepared.

"This was done by Judge Bernon, who an hour later admitted publicly that on the same identical question in Cuyahoga county on the same sort of petitions, he, as the only lawyer member of the Cuyahoga board, had advised the board several days previously to make exactly the same decision as that made by the secretary of state in the Hamilton county case.

"This decision was made by the Cuyahoga board for the same identical reasons afterwards given by the secretary in his Hamilton county decision."

"One has to have a sense of humor in this office, to appreciate situations like this," commented Brown.

Lumber Boat Believed Down with All Hands; Seas Calm.

By United Press

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept 18—The coast guard cutter Cahokia today proceeded at full speed to a point off Cape Blanco, Ore., where the steam schooner South Coast was believed to have foundered with between 15 and 20 men aboard.

First news that the vessel was missing was received when two steamers reported to the hydrographic office of the 12th naval station that they had seen a deck house, an empty life boat and numerous logs—the South Coast's cargo—500 miles north of here.

The steam schooner left Crescent City, Calif., Tuesday morning bound for Coos Bay, Ore., where it was due at 4 a. m. Wednesday. Early today it had not been sighted at Coos Bay or other coast points.

A heavy fog had enveloped the ship's course since its departure although weather reports showed that the seas had been calm off Cape Blanco for the last three days.

The missing vessel carried no radio, which added to the alarm felt that a tragedy had occurred.

Cubit, formerly a prisoner at the Kansas state penitentiary, got out of his cell armed with a dummy gun which he had cut out of cardboard.

In the jail proper, he struck Charles Geier, night jailer, over the head with a mop handle. Geier broke free, saving his keys, and fled into the elevator, which he ran up and down while screaming for help.

Cubit, still carrying his "gun," ran down to the basement and terrorized the help there. Then he returned to the first floor, where O'Brien shot and killed him. Cubit apparently made his attempted break unassisted.

"When I fainted yesterday, I tried to open my collar and instead clutched my throat," he explained glibly, and changed the subject with marked abruptness. "Have you located the woman in blue with the Heaven-scent perfume?"

"Not yet! Dupont circle is being watched closely. She has never shown up there since Monday afternoon." Thorne slipped his hand inside his pocket and his fingers closed around the folded telegram from Chicago which his clerk had given to him when he left that morning for the morgue. "Have you had any communication from this woman since then?"

"No; I"—what more Winslow would have said was checked by the entrance of his wife followed by Inspector Mitchell.

"Inspector Mitchell wishes to search the house," she explained loudly; "he infers that we have Jack concealed on the premises"

Winslow glared at the inspector. "What next?" he inquired grimly. "Have you the colossal nerve to arrest Jack on such flimsy evidence as was produced against him at the inquest?"

"Flimsy?' echoed Mitchell, with equal anger. "Well, if it's so flimsy why doesn't he face the music instead of disappearing?"

Staggered by the question, Winslow was silent, but for only an instant; his inborn combative spirit was not easily downed.

"Because Jack was absent from the card room, because he knows chemistry and because the autopsy is said to prove Kane died from carbon monoxide poison, which also can be chemically produced for experimental purposes, you declare Jack murdered a man whom he has known for years, who acted as his guardian in my absence from this country, a man we have none of us seen for fully two years—oh, bah!" Winslow's scorn cut like a whiplash.

Mitchell's eyes had a curious gleam in them

"Thanks, Mr. Winslow," he began mockingly. "You have just given me the very information I wished; the relationship between the dead man and Jack Winslow—there I will find the motive for Kane's murder."

Mrs. Winslow dropped down in the nearest chair; she felt, for once, incapable of speech. It was Inspector Mitchell who broke the pause.

"Now sir," addressing Winslow directly and ignoring the others, "suppose you tell me where we can locate your adopted son?"

But Winslow had pulled himself together; gone was every trace of passion; it was the suave man of the world who replied.

"That information, sir, you can deduce for yourself," meeting Mitchell's taunting gaze with an impenetrable smile. "Knowing Jack, I can confidently promise that he will face the situation in person and confute his enemies. Neither my wife nor I, sir, are well; I must ask you to retire, Lambert," raising his voice as he glimpsed the butler loitering outside the hall door "Show Inspector Mitchell out. Good night, sir."

With a profound bow, which included all in the room, Mitchell left them and Winslow turned feverishly to Thorne.

"Have you learned nothing about Elsa Chase?" he asked. "I know what she testified, touching a newspaper on the floor with his foot; then, with a complete change of voice. "The coroner insinuated she once lived in Boston—could it be true, man, that she's linked up with Kane?"

"In what way?" swiftly "What manner of man was this Dr. Kane?"

"With women —" Winslow shrugged his shoulders— "none too good Do you suppose," his voice rose higher in his excitement, and Lucy, the housemaid, passing down the hall from arranging Mrs. Winslow's bedroom for the night caught what he said, "there was a love affair?"

"Involving Miss Chase?" Thorne looked at him quickly. "Did you tell her that Dr Kane was expected here Monday night?"

"No" Winslow rose and paced the floor with restless tired steps. "But then, if those two were —" hesitating in his speech suggestively, "Kane would have told her he was coming and she would have had time to plot against him Off with the old love, you know, before you are on with the new—there's a motive, Thorne"

"Well, but the poison used," the detective was studying Mrs. Winslow.

"The poison," went on Thorne, becoming conscious that Winslow and his wife were waiting for him to complete his sentence; "the poison used certainly precluded the possibility of Miss Chase being involved in the murder."

Winslow shook his head vigorously. "Nonsense," he objected "There's the nurse, Miss Kline—she knows chemistry."

"Beg pardon," the interruption came from the open door and all three wheeled in that direction to find Miss Kline regarding them from the threshold of the hallway. "Miss Elsa would be very glad to see Mr. Thorne if he will stop in the music room on his way out; with your permission, sir," with a deferential glance at Winslow.

"By all means." Winslow rubbed his hands together as he turned with eagerness to the detective. "Go at once, Thorne, I'll see you later."

Mrs. Winslow rose and threw her arms around his neck.

"Jack, oh, Jack," she moaned and burst into tears. "What madness to run away!"

The great logs in the fireplace in the music room were burning brilliantly and Elsa wheeled her chair dexterously along the walls until she had switched off all the electric lamps, the fire light suited her mood, giving her a sense of warmth and comfort. She was back in her place by the chimney corner when Thorne entered the long room.

At first he did not see her, partly hidden as she was by the high back of a wing chair, but when he did, he still did not hurry his footsteps, preferring to take a leisurely look at the beautiful furniture, the handsome tapestries and curios in cabinets.

"You sent for me," he began softly, after waiting an appreciable moment for her to address him. "What can I do for you, Miss Chase?"

Elsa looked up and scanned him closely. Thorne's features were too rugged to be called actually handsome, but his dark, penetrating eyes under their heavy brows, his broad forehead with his black hair brushed carelessly across it indicated strength of character and an intelligence above the average. In the past 48 hours it had been Thorne she had looked for, Thorne she had noticed picking his unobtrusive way among them all, missing nothing, saying nothing; it was Thorne she had grown to dread —as an enemy.

"The inquest was absurd, farcical," she exclaimed. "And yet the newspapers took it seriously and they have dared picture Jack as a suspect." Her eyes blazed up at him, challengingly. "Jack is not guilty, Mr. Thorne."

To Be Continued.

Who has the courage to say in an argument, "You distort facts and I am not going to argue with you."

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood Adventure

BY JUDD M. LEWIS

THURSDAY, and I have been in school four days and had one fight, and Banty has been staying in at recess and after school ever since the second day. That is doing pretty good for the bunch. I thought of the fella I paisted yesterday when I got up this morning, and then I felt of my face. He has certainly got a mean swing.

I got up and let Jubilee down by his tope and put on my short britches and went down and milked and fed my face, and the bunch was waiting and we started to go to the pasture, and we went around past the new house that is being built, and the boss had just drove up in his automobile, and there was someone in the house upstairs hammering for all they were worth, and the boss said to us: "There is an example for youse boys Someone likes his job so well that he gets around here and starts work before it is time." We thought that was pretty good so we all went in and followed him upstairs, and we got there just in time to see two little kids with hammers sliding down a board from a back window, and they certainly did look scairt. The boss was saying that if people didn't keep their kids off of his job he would sue them for damages, and he was walking around trying to see what the kids had been hammering at, and he was mad, and there was a short piece of scantling as big as a brick laying in the middle of the floor, and he pulled back and gave it a kick, and that was what the kids had been hammering, and it was nailed tight to the floor. The boss didn't break his leg, but he must have bent it the way he sot down on a keg of nails, and felt of his ankle, and the things he said were a lot like my grandfather would have said if it had been him instead of the boss.

When we got to school Tom was waiting for me at the gate, and he said he didn't mind fighting me if I had to fight, but what was it about. So I told him what was in the geography, and he went up with me and we looked at it and he said it never was his book and was not his handwriting, and he wouldn't dast put his name in a free book because he could be arrested Then he asted me if I wanted to fight, and I said I did any time he did, and he said he did any time I did, and he grinned at me and his dimple showed. He is in the room ahead of me and is older than me, but he knows I m not afraid of him. He knows that any time he monkeys with me I will knock him loose from his dimple. The bunch was disappointed because there wasn't a fight. So was I kinda, but not so much

After school we went to the back of the poorhouse and swum The girls were not along

Love's Reawakening

A Wife's Triumph Over Jealousy

BY ADELE GARRISON

Madge Scores Again Over Edith Fairfax

I THINK Edith Fairfax would have given much to recall her question concerning the flowers Dicky had sent me for my sand-colored gown. She is not a slow-witted girl and she could not help but see the involuntary grateful glance I sent Dicky when he so summarily interrupted the batting to which Edith was subjecting me. She must have realized in that instant that she was in for something unpleasant, but it was too late for her to draw back, and Dicky's answer to her question was prompt

"Of course, I sent her flowers for her sand colored gown," he said gaily But you see, I didn't realize when I did it how hipped old Phil Veritzen is on these decorations tonight I've heard of his fussiness before -he's always sending flowers for his friends' entertainments, but when he does, he's rather the arbiter of elegance, all right, won't stand for the slightest deviation from his scheme. And he's spent a lot of time and money on his effect tonight, I guess. At any rate, one woman out of the picture, and that woman the hostess, would probably give him a stroke or something Of course, this patient Griselda of mine,"—he blew me a kiss as he spoke—"was willing to crab the game for me when I telephoned about sending her up a bouquet, but when I came to, I realized I couldn't let her do anything of the sort So she's going to wear Veitzen's flowers with all the rest of you"

Edith's eyes were venomous, but her lips forced a smile

"I've got to slip it to you, Madge for getting the cake and credit too Who else could tell her husband she was going to wear sand color, and another man she was going to wear green, and trust to Fate and her own shrewdness to work the problem out Come, old girl, 'fess up Did you have any idea which flowers you were going to wear?"

I saw the startled look Dicky shot at me knew that Edith had touched a string which already was vibrating in his mind But my answer was prompt, and I gave Dicky a confidential little smile which I knew was the traditional gall and wormwood to Edith

"You'll have to ask Dicky that question Ede He knows the answer, and if he wants to confide it to anybody else it's his privilege"

Youthful Sympathy

"But I don't" Dicky answered promptly smiling broadly, and I knew that I had pleased him "But I do want something and that is for you to get into your evening gown. 'At a girl, Mary'" as his niece came in from her bedroom—a vision in the shaded tulle from palest yellow to deepest orange which I had bought for her. "You're ready at least"

"All but my flowers" Mary said, lifting her hand and displaying the exquisite orchids with their gold and brown markings against the cream "I wanted you to tell me where to put them, Auntie Madge"

"Just as soon as I get into my own gown, dearest, which won't be two minutes I'm all ready except for slipping it on Excuse me, Edith, won't you?"

Edith nodded, but I saw that she was watching Dicky narrowly His eyes were sparkling with the zest of appreciation which is his for an artistic triumph

"That old boy sure knows his onions,' he said. "Those are perfect with that gown, Mary. Show us yours, Ede"

I did not hear her answer, for I was in my own room, hurriedly unfastening the dress I had worn down to the dining-room. Mary came in a second later and deftly put my evening gown over my head. As she pulled it into place she whispered ecstasically,

"Oh! but isn't she sore, though? That's one of her little schemes which didn't go through. She's trying to laugh it off and be sweet to Uncle Dicky, but she won't get over that left to the face in a hurry"

I suppose I should have reproved her, but her ardent young sympathy was very sweet to me, and though I shook my head at her, I patted her cheek lovingly, and then, taking her bouquet, I pinned it on her bodice for her

The Two Bouquets

"Thank you, that's perfect," she said "Now what about your flowers?"

Alas! for the resolution which I had formed to minimize the size and beauty of the bouquet or tare white orchids which Mr Veritzen had sent to me Edith's covert sneers were still with me, and I took out the exquisite cluster of flowers and fastened it against my left shoulder Then from the bouquet which Dicky had sent me, I took three of the exquisitely tinted rosebuds and fastened them with a tendril of green, in the girdle of my gown, remembering Dicky's loving gibe 'just against your heart" Then feeling armed for anything Edith Fairfax could do or say, I slipped my hand in Mary's arm and went back to the living-room.

GLIDER CLUB FORMED HERE

Marion Aviation Enthusiasts To Meet at Y. M. C. A. Tonight To Organize.

Formal organization of the Marion Glider club is expected to take place today at 8 p. m. in the Y. M. C. A., it was announced by A. P. Artran, vice president of the Franklin Glider Corp. of Ypsilanti, Mich., who has been in the city sponsoring a glider club movement.

Yesterday Artran gave an extensive demonstration of gliding at the Marion airport with a crowd of 400 looking on. Several of his flights were of five to eight minutes' duration, and he attained a height of from 400 to 500 feet. The flights were made by aid of an auto tow.

Fourteen Marion men definitely entered the organization movement at a meeting last night in the Y. M. C. A., at which time Bird Jacoby was selected as treasurer and Charles Whysall, of the Marion airport, as chairman of the organization committee.

Others who signified their intentions of becoming members of the club were Marion Hinklin, Charles Leffler Woodrow Slatzer, Hoyt Thompson, Ralph Gaster, Joe Moran, Chad Hero, Charles Aronhalt, Bert Brashares, Dick Barnhart, Bob Kraner and Marion Cheney. In addition, 22 others turned in their names as possible members, according to Artran.

Maneuverability and floating characteristics of a glider were demonstrated at the airport by Artran yesterday.

Whysall probably will be named flight chairman of the group, which will receive free instruction in gliding, according to Artran. The club, when formulated, probably will purchase a glider for use whenever members desire, he said.

The British Pharmaceutical society is trying to stop the sale by automatic vendors of a highly poisonous disinfectant.

Garfield F. Carr, giving his address as Marion, was held this morning by police on a warrant of Charles A. Klunk, charging he issued a questionable check to Hotel Marion for $26.65. The check was drawn on the City National bank of New Philadelphia. His arraignment is expected today.

F. E. Tabler of Marion, faces a similar charge filed against him by Jim Dugan, local clothier. The affidavit charges Tabler issued a questionable check for $1.95 on the Marion County Bank Co. Tabler was arrested several days ago, but was released when he agreed to redeem the check. His charge was placed on the docket today and he will probably be arraigned soon.

CARDS STRETCH LEAD TO FULL GAM

HIGH CRACKS DOUBLE TO CINCH CONTEST; 2 HOMERS FOR HACK

Chicago Clubber Brings Total Circuit Clouts to 52 for Season.

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer.

There isn't very much to Andy High as ball players go—only 5½ feet of him—but today he can wear the biggest hero's garland St. Louis has to offer. Andy does not even rate as a regular on the Cardinals this season, yet he is the one who has given them two successive triumphs over their rival Brooklyn Robins and a clear hold on first place.

On Tuesday Andy went into the game as pinch hitter in the tenth inning and cracked out a double that led to the game's only run and a virtual tie with the Robins. Yesterday High hit a double in the ninth and brought a 5 to 3 triumph for the Cards and a full game margin He hit with the score tied and two men on base.

The four leading clubs today stand as follows:

| Club | W. | L. | Pct. | GB | TP |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| St. Louis | 84 | 60 | .583 | ... | 10 |
| Brooklyn | 84 | 62 | .575 | 1 | 8 |
| Chicago | 83 | 62 | .572 | 1½ | 9 |
| New York | 79 | 66 | .545 | 5½ | 9 |

Johnson Hurls Well

Sylvester Johnson pitched a fine game for the Cards against Adolfo Luque. Al Grabowski, who got credit for the victory and Jim Lindsey did well in relief roles, and Chick Hafey's home run in the fourth gave the Cards their first tie

Hack Wilson clouted a pair of home runs on his first two times at bat against the Giants and sent the Cubs off to an easy triumph The homers gave Wilson a total of 52 for the season and produced a new major league record for batting in runs as he brought his total to 156. The former mark was 175 for a season, made by Lou Gehrig in 1927

Cincinnati broke its losing streak by defeating the Boston Braves 6 to 4, behind Red Lucas' pitching, in the second game of a double header, after it had run to 13 straight through Boston's 6 to 3 triumph in the first clash, and Pittsburgh Pirates slammed out 12 runs in two innings to defeat Philadelphia 12 to 5

Athletics Set Down

The formality of ending the American league pennant race was delayed for a day or two as the Philadelphia Athletics went down before Red Faber's six hit pitching and lost a 4 to 2 decision to the Chicago White Sox while Washington rallied after a bad first game and won the second from Cleveland, 6 to 4. The Indians hammered out a 13 to 7 victory in the first as Earl Averill tied the modern major league home run record. Averill hit three homers in successive times at bat, barely missed a fourth and grounded out, then cracked out another his first time up in the second

The other American league teams took their games more or less lightly, devoting most of their time to attempting to fatten their batting averages. The St. Louis Browns outlasted a seven run tally by the New York Yankees to win out 9 to 8, while the Detroit Tigers gained a 9 to 7 victory over the Boston Red Sox as each team cracked out 15 hits.

BUCKS, LOUISVILLE BATTLE TO 5-5 TIE

Darkness Ends Game in 12th; St. Paul Wins in Walk.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 18 Louisville and Columbus wound up yesterday's battle with a 5 to 5 tie after twelve innings, when darkness forced the game to be called The Colonels were leading 4 to 2 in the ninth. Larry Winters knocked the ball out of the park while Red Dixon was on base. Both sides scored a marker in the twelfth.

St. Paul turned their game into a track meet, taking advantage of ineffective pitching and poor defense to win from Milwaukee 11 to 3.

The Millers won the third game of the series with Kansas City 11 to 10, with Pat Collins getting a homer in the seventh for the Blues

In the only night game, the Hens tracked mud all over the Indians and licked them 12 to 3.

ON THE INSIDE

With

YOU'LL SURELY WANT TO KNOW:

There are nearly half a hundred candidates battling for posts on the current Harding High football team.

The total weight of 47 candidates is more than seven thousand one hundred fifty pounds.

The only man on the squad, yes, we said man, that weighs more than 200 pounds is Tubby Eckenbarger. He tips the Toledos at 215.

The lightest man on the squad, "Fragile" Foster can only elevate the weight bar to the extent of 110 pounds. And that in a football uniform.

Coach Bohyer has been exceedingly fortunate as far as injuries are concerned. Augenstine and Uhl are the only two men missing from the squad as yet Wright hurt an ankle but is still working out daily.

There are 25 junior high kids working out each day in conjunction with the high schoolers. Bohyer is looking ahead.

If it wasn't for a bad ankle Dick Wright would be the fastest man on the local lineup. As it is, Morgan is the only man who can match strides with him in the open field.

Nearly three complete teams and three managers will make the jaunt to Toledo Saturday for the joust with the Irish.

There are far more blondes or near blondes on the team than there are brunets or bricktops At least 15 of the first 22 players will come under the first qualification.

The reason three likely looking gridders are gracing the sidelines is because they have been in school one too many semesters.

Bob Bush is turning in an admirable performance at the fullback post despite his weight of little more than 150 pounds

If Dick Morgan ever gets through the first line defense opponents will find him plenty tough to stop. He looks like a good quarterback.

It is rumored the prep school squad may play an exhibition game among themselves preceding some home game this year. Play with an outside team would make them ineligible for but three years of play in high school.

The reserve football strength at Harding will be strong enough to permit the first stringers to get a rest when needed without danger of losing a game.

Several members of the so called varsity may be forced to improve to keep their posts in the face of some determined second team opposition

SINGER, STRIBLING SIGN

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Sept. 18—William "Young" Stribling, outstanding heavyweight contender, and Al Singer, new lightweight titleholder, have been signed for bouts in Chicago stadium within the next four weeks Stribling will appear late this month against an opponent yet to be named, while Singer will make his first showing early in October, also against an advisary to be selected later.

Justo Suarez, Argentine lightweight champion, spoke via radio to the South American country, after he knocked out Bruce Flowers, negro lightweight, in New York

HARDING GRID SQUAD GOES THROUGH STIFF THREE-HOUR SESSION

Bohyer Looking for Best Ball-Carrying Combination; Reserves Look Strong.

Drilling entirely new combinations of both backfield and line in the hope of finding the strongest possible lineup for the Saturday tussle with Toledo Coach Bohyer yesterday ran the high school gridders through one of the longest sessions since the beginning of the school term.

Bohyer was not content to let well enough alone when he found a combination that might "click" with enough precision to upset the Saturday opponent. Nearly every back on the squad was given an opportunity to demonstrate both his ball carrying and blocking ability during the near three hour drill.

Starters Uncertain

Several of the players who have been occupying positions with the second string lineup came through in good shape although it is doubtful if the combination of Morgan, Bush, Sloan and Hunt will be bettered before time for the game this Saturday Bohyer has not as much as intimated how the team will line up against Toledo but it is probable that these four will compose the backfield for at least a good part of the game.

Practice last night apparently failed to diclose any lineman who is apt to replace anyone in the present lineup. Alspach and Newby look like the best prospects for the flanks with Clay and Smith occupying the tackle posts. Eckenbarger and Housewarth at guards and Williams at center complete what looks like the stongest lineup to be gotten out of the squad at present. This combination however is by no means certain of starting the game Saturday. The starting eleven will not be named until just before game time of that day

BOOSTS EARNINGS

NEW YORK, Sept. 18—Apparently intent on making his position at the top of the all-time money winning column as secure as possible against all future challengers, Gallant Fox, the three-year-old turf champion, has sent his total earnings soaring to $328,165, the last $10,300 of which was won yesterday in capturing the jockey club gold cup at Belmont park

SMITH WINS MATCH

AKRON, O., Sept 18—Horton Smith, playing an 18-hole exhibition match at Lake Forest country club at Hudson, near here, yesterday, won over Tommy Armour, Densmore Shute, Columbus, and Walter Hagen. Smith carded a 77, Armour 78, Hagen and Schute 79. Par is 72.

Has 52 Now

Wilson, successor to Lou Gehrig as the crown prince of swat, and heir apparent to the throne of sultan of swat, blasted out two more circuit clouts yesterday to bring his total for the year to 52 four basers. Wilson has nine more games to crack out eight more homers to tie the all time major league record of Ruth.

CARNERA ADDS 23RD VICTIM TO K. O. LIST

Italian Monster Concludes Fighting Conquest Among American Heavies.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Sept. 18—Primo Carnera has finished his conquest among American heavyweights with an average of 1000, and an extremely healthy bankroll.

The Italian monster last night nominated and elected Jack Gross, a Jewish heavy from Philadelphia, as knockout victim number 23, accomplishing the business in less than four rounds. Carnera's board of managers said the bout was his last in America, and that he would sail for Italy October 11.

About the only difference between Gross and Carnera's other opponents was that the Philadelphian did his fighting left-handed. He tried hard, but outweighed 67 pounds and appearing almost puny compared to the bulky Italian, he didn't have a chance. Carnera mauled and slugged him about the ring, working methodically until the fourth when he turned loose a crushing right that dropped Gross for nine counts. Gross got up, but another nudge on the jaw by the ham-like fist felled him for keeps.

JONES WINS SINGLES MATCH WITH CHENEY; LINDSEY-NORRIS TIE

Darkness Halts Battle Between Latter Pair; Doubles Start Today.

Darkness prevented the completion of one of the scheduled tennis matches yesterday and another was postponed until today so only one man advanced as a result of the play for the day. C. E. Jones defeated Art Cheney in the only completed match of the day, winning by scores of 6-love and 6-1.

Paul Lindsey dropped the first set of his match with Richard Norris by a 6-1 score but came back in the second to win 7-5 Darkness put a halt to the proceedings before the third set was finished It will be played off sometime today

Bill Stair and Chalmer Cline postponed their match by agreement and will play it off sometime before 5:30 p. m. today

Double Forfeit

Three matches were originally on the bill for today but a double forfeit in the first round apparently has eliminated one of these. Neither Langley nor Bray reported the outcome of their scheduled first round match so they have been given a double forfeit As a result Bob Wolfinger advances to the quarter final round without competition. Wolfinger defeated Herr to get in the second round

The other matches set for today are between Zig Snyder and Bill Thompson, and Siefert-Cunningham and Kerr-Mautz The latter is the first of the doubles play.

Big Ten Gridiron Coaches Speed Up Practice Drills

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Sept. 18—If plenty of high class forward passers and kickers will make a championship football team, Amos Alonzo Stagg has a chance to steer the University of Chicago to the Big Ten title.

Every man in what appears to be the regular Maroon backfield can throw passes in better than ordinary style and only Paul Stagg, son of the "grand old man of the midway", lacks kicking ability. In yesterday's workouts, Walter Knudson, fullback, Errat Van Nice and Joe Temple, halfbacks, and Stagg, who is slated to play quarterback, fired passes in sharpshooter fashion as they worked on Stagg's "flanker" aerial formation. Then all but the younger Stagg gave capable exhibitions of punting.

Needs Linemen

Three sophomore backs, Stackler, Birner and Wallace, also pleased Stagg by their passing. Stagg's big worry is a lack of linemen and he indicated that some of his many backfield candidates would have to learn to play in the forward wall.

Practice in all camps was speeded up yesterday, only Northwestern getting by without plenty of physical labor. Coach Dick Hanley gave the Wildcat candidates a long chalk-talk on plays to be used this season, and finished up with a signal drill.

Zuppke Loses Two

Injuries made their appearance at Illinois, Coach Bob Zuppke losing the services of Pete Yanuskus and Bill Charle, backs. Yanuskus suffered a chipped elbow which will keep him out for more than a week, while Charle, a promising sophomore quarterback, fractured his leg and will see little action this season. Drills on fundamentals were the big items at Michigan and Indiana, while Wisconsin, Ohio State and Purdue worked on offensive formations.

Minnesota's big squad received its first scrimmage assignment, in which a tentative first string eleven mixed with a sophomore team. Minnesota stock climbed when Coach Fritz Crisler learned that Mervin Dillner, a big sophomore backfield man, had become eligible, giving the Gophers a promising punter. Wesley Fesler, all-American end at Ohio State, caught Sam Willaman's eye by his ball-carrying talent and may be used at halfback on offense this season, and at end on defense.

The first "open match play" golf tournament ever held on the Pacific coast will take place in San Francisco, Dec. 4 to 7, for a $7,500 purse

BOBBY GROOMS FOR FINAL TITLE TRIAL

160 Players Block Way of Jones to Fourth Major Championship.

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18 — Amateur golfers from all points of the compass are preparing for the national championship opening at the Merion cricket club next Monday.

More than 150 players including Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., Atlanta, are entered.

Bobby is prepared to wage the greatest battle of his momentous career and his 18-hole jaunt yesterday over the course where he won his first United States amateur championship in 1924 spoke little mercy for those who would block his way to the most supreme achievement of any golfer in history—winning the fourth major crown within four months.

Long straight drives splitting the center of the fairways, iron shots which split the pin all the way, shots that literally danced a jig when they hit the putting green, combined to give them putts for birdies on 16 of the 18 holes. But Bobby tried every approach putt the second time, taking 73 for the round, three over par. He shot his putts straight at the cups in order to get an idea of the roll of the greens.

WHEAT VALUES DROP SHARPLY

Heavy Selling Wave Sends Prices Downward After Steady Opening.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Sept. 18— Enlarged selling on the part of houses with connections northwest did much to make wheat values average lower early today. Advices were at hand that although Europe will need much more wheat than last year importers are likely to continue their policy of hand to mouth buying, especially as long as Canada continues to offer freely. Opening unchanged to ⅜c off, wheat later sagged all around. Corn started at ¼c decline to ¼c advance, and subsequently underwent a general setback, but then rallied.

In contrast with an evident downward trend shown by wheat prices at times today, corn quotations developed strength as a result of aggressive buying for various prominent firms.

The action of corn served to impart more or less rallying power to wheat values, with wheat helped also by official estimates that the 1930 yield of wheat in Germany is 9,000,000 bushels less than was forecast in July. Moreover, Germany's rye production is decreased 30,000,000 bushels and barley diminished 58,000,000 bushels from July with the oats crop 138,000,000 bushels smaller than last year.

Advances in corn prices today carried the market up quickly more than a cent a bushel at one stage, but the rise encountered large-sized standing offers to sell at various fixed limits. This circumstance operated at a curb on the upward movement of corn values. Likelihood that husking returns will prove disappointing was given as a reason for corn buying. Oats sympathized with corn.

Persistent commission house purchasing of lard, together with upturns in hog values, gave strength to provision prices.

7 Hours in Bed and Not 7 Minutes Sleep

The Fall Acidity Takes

When you go to bed dog tired and still can't sleep and you rise in the morning more tired than when you went to bed, it's a sign you're "acid." Excess acid, formed in the stomach as a result of our unnatural eating habits, causes acid indigestion with gas, sourness and burning and sets up poisonous putrefaction in the gastro intestinal canal which saps our strength and vitality and so taxes our nerves that we can't sleep at night or work efficiently during the day.

Magnesia Oxolds, developed in Germany by a famous 100 year old pharmaceutical house, corrects acidity in the right way. Upon contact with the acid in the stomach, Magnesia Oxolds generate nascent, or active, oxygen. The "live" oxygen stimulates the alkaline gastric mucus, checks putrefaction in the gastro-intestinal canal and stimulates the activities of the intestinal walls which aids the natural movement of the bowels. All three effects are necessary to the true correction of acidity.

Makes this Acidity Test

To ascertain just how "acid" you are, make this test. Get a package of Magnesia Oxolds from Bradley's Drug Store or any other good drug gist. Take two after each meal and see how much better you feel—how much more soundly you sleep and how much more energy you have. If, after taking the contents of one bottle, you don't get more than amazing results, return the bottle to the druggist and he will refund the purchase price promptly and in full.—Adv.

SAFETY DRIVE TO AID PUPILS

State Department Representative Warns Students About "Jaywalking."

A campaign against "jaywalking" by Marion school children will be launched next week in the public schools by Mrs. Blanch Ward, director of the division of safety in Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown's office, she said today.

Mrs Ward this week is working in county schools on a safety campaign in which she stresses care in mounting and dismounting from school buses, as well as walking along the highway.

The work in county schools, as well as in city schools and parochial schools, is being done under auspices of the Marion Auto club.

"Adults ought to set an example for school children by crossing streets only at intersections," Mrs Ward said today in commenting on next week's campaign here.

"Statistics show that 65 per cent of all city automobile accidents are caused by pedestrians rather than the drivers of the machines," she said. "Jaywalking is the biggest cause of such accidents."

Mayor L. Don Jones and Police Chief Ira Shrock have given Mrs. Ward their promise of cooperation in the coming campaign, she said. Both City School Superintendent George A. Bowman and County Superintendent C. B. Rayburn also are cooperating in the campaign by giving Mrs. Ward time in all the schools for her short safety talks.

Last spring Mrs. Ward came here and organized a safety patrol at St. Mary's parochial school. It resumed operation yesterday and will guide children across the street in the vicinity of the school indefinitely, she said.

KONJOLA BRINGS LASTING RELIEF TO DAYTON LADY

Rheumatism, Neuritis, and Kidney Trouble Yield in Turn to Power of Famous Medicine.

MRS. NANNIE ROY

"I suffered for years with rheumatism, neuritis, and kidney trouble," said Mrs. Nannie Roy, 15 Dayton avenue, Dayton, Ohio. "Agonizing pains shot through my shoulders and the back of my neck. My head ached constantly and the joints of my arms and fingers were stiff and swollen from rheumatism. Disordered kidneys caused severe pains across my back and bladder actions were frequent. Constant sufferings caused me to be weak, run-down and very nervous.

"Within a month after I began taking Konjola my health was greatly improved. My kidneys were stimulated to normal action and my sleep was restful. My nerves became calm. I have taken six bottles of Konjola and the frightful pains of neuritis and rheumatism have entirely gone. I have gained steadily in strength and energy. I have not taken Konjola for four months but I am still in excellent health."

This is not an exceptional case. The files of Konjola are filled with just such instances. Try this new medicine today.

Konjola is sold in Marion, O., at Stump & Sams Pharmacy, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

This is exactly what Peterson's Ointment offers you and if your skin isn't marvelously cleared your money will be returned.

Thurzey Pentecost of Springfield, Tenn., says "I had used several kinds of Ointment but they did not help. I used Peterson's 3 or 4 times and my face was at last cleared of pimples."

Put your faith in Peterson's Ointment and be free from pimples and blackheads in a week's time—one 35 cent box will prove it—All druggists.—Adv

The driver of the machine, seeing he could not beat the train to the crossing, is said to have veered to the right, sideswiping the train with the machine's left fenders and running board, both of which were smashed. Front wheels also were bent, but otherwise the car was undamaged.
